

ENGLAND'S
FISCAL POLICYARGUMENTS ON SUBJECT
BY BALFOURAdvance Sheets an "Insular Free Trade by Great Britain's Premier Made Public—His Arguments.

London, Sept. 15.—Premier Balfour issued to night advance sheets of a pamphlet on the subject of "Insular Free Trade," in which he presents at length arguments in favor of a change in Great Britain's fiscal policy. In introducing the pamphlet Balfour says his purpose in issuing it is that it would be impossible to put all important points of this question within the limits of a single speech and therefore he says the pamphlet may be a fitting preliminary to the speech he will shortly make.

Arguments presented throughout the pamphlet vary little from those already enunciated, but the premier points out that as the result of England's policy of retaining the fiscal policy made for a free trade country in a world of free traders, not for a free trade country in a world of protectionists, the rate of her export trade had not increased and in fact has seriously diminished. Compared with past years some departments show no increase, while others show symptoms of decay. The premier asserts there is no reason to expect improvement. Meanwhile Germany, America, France, Russia and even Great Britain and self-governing colonies continue to build up a protected interest within their borders.

Balfour says mistakes made by free traders half a century ago have left Great Britain bearing all the burdens and enjoying only half the advantages which should attach to the empire. He devotes considerable space to the effect of protection upon combinations in countries in which protection exists. This, the premier points out, is to the disadvantage of the British manufacturer, who is unable to compete with a manufacturer who is able to sell abroad at a lower price than he charges for the same article at home. He gives instances of German steel in this particular, saying it is selling cheaper in England than the English manufacturer can possibly produce of. Balfour declares optimists who advocate continuance of the free trade policy in place of injury worked by protection on Great Britain's interests are foolish and their arguments little short of reckless. The only possible hope of mitigation of the evil is through negotiation, which he says, can only appeal to self interest in foreign protected countries and in case of the colonies to self interest coupled with sentiment.

Balfour concludes: "The most essential object of our national efforts should be to get rid of the bonds in which we have gratuitously entangled ourselves. The precise manner in which we should use our regained liberty is important, yet, after all, only secondary."

Publication of the pamphlet immediately after the momentous cabinet council held yesterday and to day indicates that it embodies the statement of the policy accepted or rather acquiesced in by a majority of the cabinet. If this assumption is correct, it means abandonment of the idea of a presidential tariff with colonies and taxation of food in favor of a system of retaliatory duties. Even this, however, is tentative. The most striking feature of Balfour's pamphlet is that from the beginning to the end it does not refer to Chamberlain's proposals. There is not a word about the threatened breaking up of empire or preferential tariffs, and the colonies are scarcely mentioned. On the contrary, the whole line of Balfour's reasoning is opposed to tariffs for purely protective purposes. Hence, Chamberlain is faced with the alternative of either abandoning preferential tariffs or prosecuting his campaign unsupported by Balfour.

THE ENGLISH CABINET.

London, Sept. 15.—Referring to the cabinet meeting the St. James Gazette says: "We can confidently affirm final decision of the fiscal question had not arrived yesterday. If Chamberlain's proposals is not accepted he will resign his seat in the cabinet."

LIPTON IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Sir Thomas Lipton arrived early to day on a special train. With him were Colonel Neill, a well known yachting expert, who accompanied the baronet to this country, and Capt. Valentine Webster, of the British army. Sir Thomas will spend much time here looking over business interests and visiting friends.

Shortly after arrival Sir Thomas was taken ill with indigestion and it was found necessary to declare off all plans for entertaining the baronet to day. The indisposition is not serious.

ENDS IN FIGHT.

WAR IS IMMINENT

Ambassador Stores Discusses the Trouble Between Turkey and Bulgaria.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 15.—Ambassador Stores was one of the resident's callers to day. Stores will sail on the American liner New York to tomorrow. It is said he regarded danger of war between Bulgaria and Turkey as imminent. Bulgaria he thought had nearly reached the limit of endurance and unless powers of central Europe intervene to prevent further outrages on the part of Turkish troops, war scarcely could be avoided. In the opinion of Stores hope of peace now must be based in a conference which is to be held the latter part of this month between the czar of Russia and Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary. He did not believe actual war would be precipitated before that conference, although the strain on Bulgaria is very great. He expressed hope the czar and emperor might reach some solution of the present difficulty which would avert a disastrous conflict that, once begun, might involve seriously other European powers.

Ambassador Stores discussed the situation with President Roosevelt to day and now is hurrying to Europe in order that he may be in Vienna at the time of the conference between the heads of the two great powers of central Europe.

MADE STATEMENT

New York, Sept. 15.—Isaac S. McGlehan, head of the Columbia Supply company, which supplied package boxes to the government, made a statement to day explaining his connection with August W. Machen. He says when the original contract was made Machen was not a government official; also that the company had an arrangement with Mr. Lozier for the use of his invention or improvement in the boxes; that Lozier later arranged to go to Europe and requested that the royalty on his improvement be paid Machen, who was, he explained, interested with him in outside matters and who would send money to his wife. During the continuance of the Lozier contract, McGlehan says the royalty was paid as requested, but that was all the connection his company ever had with Machen.

NOTED MINING CASE.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 15.—The supreme court affirmed the decision of the circuit court in the case of the Negaunee Iron company vs. Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, involving iron ore lands valued at several million dollars. The right to develop and operate the mines on the tract was claimed by the Cleveland Cliffs company under provisions of a ninety-nine year lease held by the Pioneer Iron company, which it succeeded. The lease was held invalid, however, in the circuit court and this opinion is now affirmed. The case has been the most important tried in the upper peninsula for years.

RUSSIA'S POLICY.

Macedonian massacres and inducing the isolate Bulgaria by refusing to stop London, Sept. 15.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph claims that the Russian government is opposed to the idea of a presidential tariff with colonies and taxation of food in favor of a system of retaliatory duties. Even this, however, is tentative. The most striking feature of Balfour's pamphlet is that from the beginning to the end it does not refer to Chamberlain's proposals. There is not a word about the threatened breaking up of empire or preferential tariffs, and the colonies are scarcely mentioned. On the contrary, the whole line of Balfour's reasoning is opposed to tariffs for purely protective purposes. Hence, Chamberlain is faced with the alternative of either abandoning preferential tariffs or prosecuting his campaign unsupported by Balfour.

AN APPEAL TO THE POWERSPOINTS IN NOTE PRESENT-ED BY BULGARIASays Turkey is Annihilating Bulgarians Under Pretext of Suppressing a Revolution—
Asks Powers to Give Porte Counsel.

Sofia, Sept. 15.—The following points are in the note which Bulgaria has just presented to the powers: "What the Bulgarian government had foreseen as expressed in its note June 29, of development of affairs in Turkey, have become amply verified. The Turkish government is systematically annihilating the Bulgarian people. Mobilization and concentration of such great forces in European Turkey, under the pretext of suppressing a revolution, gives Bulgaria reason to suppose at the opportune moment she will be attacked by Turkey. The Bulgarian government can no longer remain indifferent to the presence of such a situation, which is of nature calculated to bring about a hostile collision between Turkey and Bulgaria. If the great powers do not take measures to give the sublime porte counsels of wisdom and of moderation the Bulgarian government will be obliged to take necessary steps to be ready for every eventuality and not be taken by surprise."

ARE WAITING.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 15.—No important step is likely to be taken at the present critical juncture, pending return to the capital of Prince Ferdinand and reply from the powers of some intimation from them in response to Bulgaria's note.

The air is filled with rumors of mobilization. It is alleged the first three divisions of the army, having their centers at Sofia, Philippopolis and Silivria, have been called out. In official quarters, however, it is declared the only steps actually decided upon is summoning to colors of the first three divisions who retired from the army during the last three years. This will give a force of 10,000 men, who will be chiefly employed in strengthening troops along the frontier.

London, Sept. 15.—The correspondent of the Mail at Monastir describes underground cells in prisons there used for political prisoners. They are so low the inmates cannot even sit; they must lie down. Water is poured into the cells at night by soldiers who prod the prisoners with bayonets to prevent them sleeping. Food is withheld for three days together and air passages stopped and other tortures inflicted in order to force prisoners into confessions of complicity with revolutionaries. Many have died under this treatment.

All Bulgarian prisoners in the town jail at Losengrad have been killed by Mussulman prisoners, aided by prison guards.

After considerable discussion on the validity of the warrant issued under the indictment the examination adjourned until Sept. 16. Upon request of counsel arraignment of McGlehan and Huntington was adjourned until Sept. 23.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Twenty-Six States and Territories Represented at Convention at Ogden, Utah.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 15.—Twenty-six states and territories are represented at the National Irrigation Congress, which opened here to day. An international aspect was lent to the proceedings by the presence of representatives from Mexico and France, while the government at Washington was represented by Secretary Wilson. The keynote of the present congress, as expressed both by Governor Wells, of Utah, in his speech of welcome, and President Clark in his response was that "the time has come to do things," was heartily cheered.

The first resolution introduced favored conserving of flood waters of great rivers as part of the scheme of irrigation of the west received so much favor that there seems to be no doubt such action will be overwhelmingly favored.

President Clark in his address reviewed progress made in the matter of irrigation and results already achieved. Irrigation, he said, opens a new era of prosperity for sixteen states and territories. It provides means for overcoming aridity, the great obstacle that has retarded the settlement of more than one-third of the area of the republic. The area already occupied irrigated is 6,500,000 acres. If the next thirty years the government should provide reservoirs sufficient to reclaim 20,000,000 acres at an expense of $10,000,000 annually, the land reclaimed will provide homes for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 people which, with the immense property necessarily created, will constitute a magnificent contribution to the wealth and glory of the nation.

A message was read from President Roosevelt, in which he said: "The passage of the national irrigation law was one of the greatest steps not only in the forward progress of states, but of all mankind. It was the beginning of an achievement so great we hesitate to predict the outcome, but it was only a beginning." He then declared the law must be given effect and cites what has been done in this direction and what it is proposed to do. He urged that irrigation works must be built for permanence and safety if they are to last and spread prosperity for centuries. The president discussed the subject at great length and said: "Settlement of the great arid west by makers of homes is the central object both of the irrigation and of the forest policy of the United States."

United States Senator Barton, of Kansas spoke on "Irrigation and the Conservation of Water for the Prevention of Floods."

Letters and telegrams of regret were read from Senator Chauncey M. Depeew and others.

To night a public reception was given the delegates.

THE PROPER TREATMENT FOR A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle and it is usually two or three months before he is fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time and in some cases within three days. For sale by all druggists.

FLAG MUST BE RESPECTEDSOCIALISTS TALKED TOO MUCH AT PORTO RICOConvicted of Anarchistic Conduct and Sent to Prison for Six Months—Attacks on Government Must Stop.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 15.—Edurno Conde and Leonidas Gulelotti, two socialists who spoke in a recent meeting of the American Federation of Labor, were tried to day for insulting the American flag and threatening the life of Governor Hunt. One of the prisoners was accused of advising workmen upon the return of Governor Hunt Oct. 1 from the United States to parade, carrying black flags and then make demands upon the government. If these demands were refused, the speaker, added, the alternative of killing Governor Hunt remained. The other orator was said to have declared the American flag was a rag fit only to cover rascals and criminals.

The accused vehemently denied the charges. They were convicted of anarchistic conduct and Justice Koppe sentenced them to six months in prison. Koppe says the flag is higher than the law and anarchists need never expect any mercy in his court.

The case has established a precedent as a Porto Rican official warning that attacks on the flag and government must stop. Americans and loyal Porto Ricans are jubilant, while socialists are angry at to day's decision. The convicted men will appeal, claiming Koppe had no jurisdiction, as there is no law covering the offense. Interest in the case is intense.

BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

London, Sept. 15.—The Russian boundary commission reassembled at the foreign office to day and oral arguments were begun. Only a few spectators were present when Attorney General Finlay commenced presentation of Canadian argument.

When the tribunal adjourned for the day the Canadians were gratified at scoring what they believed to be the first good point. During the afternoon session the attorney general sought to establish the position of the Portland channel and fix the entrance thereto. He interpreted the words "A la hauteur de" in the Russo-British correspondence leading to the signature of the treaty of 1825, not as showing the boundary lies "on the same parallel" and lower end of Prince of Wales island as claimed by the United States, but "off of" as asserted by Canada. The effect of this would be to fix the line 54 degrees, 45 minutes, as claimed by Canada. Chief Justice Alverstone agreed with Attorney General Finlay.

When American counsel have an opportunity to speak they say they will show the Canadians themselves have given various interpretations of the phrase and they are inclined to minimize the importance of Alverstone's statement.

Letters and telegrams of regret were read from Senator Chauncey M. Depeew and others.

To night a public reception was given the delegates.

EARLY METHODISM

Some Interesting Reminiscences of the Work in Fulton and Schuyler Counties

Much has been written regarding the history of Methodism, but anything pertaining to that great and glorious denomination cannot fail to be of interest. A work regarding the history of the denomination in parts of Fulton and Schuyler counties has been left at this office and from it extracts are made.

The territory in question was first known as Peoria circuit under the Illinois district and in 1825 Samuel H. Thompson was the presiding elder and William See the pastor. The former was succeeded by Peter Cartwright, who served the district eleven years, and among his successors are noted the familiar names of Peter Akers, Joseph Montgomery, R. E. Guthrie,
N. G. Berryman, Wm. J. Rutledge, Jame Leaton, W. D. R. Trotter, Peter Wallace, Jas. P. Dimmitt, Wm. E. Johnson, G. R.
S. McElfresh, Wm. R. Goodwin, Stephen Whitlock, D. W. English and others. G.
R. S. McElfresh served 1878-90 and no many years afterwards was obliged to give up active work, though very redut-antly, on account of failing health. His name, however, is yet fragrant there and his memory will be sacred for many years to come.

The circuits in question were named respectively Peoria, Atlas, Spoon River, Rushville, Astoria, Vermont and Astoria Butlersville and Downing. Beginning at 1825 the names of ministers are found:
Samuel Bogart, D. B. Carr, Wm. G.
Piper, Moses Clapp, in 1842, Wm. McK.
McElfresh in 1851, Jos. Lane, J. P. Hill-ery in 1861, Henry C. Wallace, Alfred M.
Daneley, P. M. Herndon, J. Q. Swim, Geo.
W. Newkirk, J. G. Bonnell, R. G. Hobbs, Milton W. Wilkin, Edward A. Wanless, Abner Clark, Fred B. Madden and Edward H. Lugg. In 1876 the name of the circuit was dropped after Astoria and it became a regular charge.

In 1823 Peter Cartwright and two companions, while seeking a location in which to make their home, crossed the Illinois river at Fort Clark, the present site of Peoria, and traveling down the country, crossed the river at Beards ferry, now Beardstown. At that time there was no settlement between Lewistown and Beardstown. In 1825 Rev. Wm. See, who was then traveling the Peoria circuit, visited the Hobart settlement in Schuyler county and formed the first class in the county and a short time since Aunt Polly Scott of Downing, one of the first members was still living. The following year Peter Cartwright, the presiding elder crossed the river below the Beard ferry and traveled on to the Ross settlement.
Among the names of settlers of that early date those of Nicholas Viles, Wm. Stevenson and Amos Richardson figure promi-nently. The first preacher was Levi Green, who delivered his sermon in the cabin of Calvin Hobart in 1823 and through him Presiding Elder See came to establish the work in that region. O.
Mr. Green the historian James Leator says:

"Mr. Green was in many respects a remarkable man. A native of the mountainous regions of North Carolina and destitute of early education and advantages he still learned to read and write, and though possessed of only three books, the Bible, hymn book and camp meeting songs, his illigent study of these added to his native talent and piety made him a very acceptable and useful preacher. He was a great addict. Utterly indifferent regarding his personal appearance, he would often appear bare legged and shoeless, wearing an old, round crowned felt hat with half the rim torn off or a con cap with the tail dangling from behind, a coarse shirt stuck into the waistband of an almost worn out pair of deer skin breeches reaching little below the knee. But his sermons were clear, comprehensive and appropriately delivered in good language, yet mixed with a plentiful sprinkle of back woods phrases and witticisms giving an attractive raciness to his discourses and rather adding to their attracting from their merits. To those who looked at his personal appearance his sermons were the cause of admiration and astonishment and one who often heard him was a good judge used to style him 'The Lord's Prodigy.'"

Here it was that Wm. McElfresh began in a modest manner in 1851 as junior preacher on the Rushville circuit. He was to travel under the teaching and direction of Rev. Jesse Cromwell, a sweet spirited, genial man. Mr. McElfresh was 26 years old, had recently completed his college course and for the first year's work received the munificent sum of $4.
At the first quarterly conference the stewards handed him $5.75 as his share of the quarantee. His outfit consisted of an old fashioned pair of saddle bags, a horse, saddle and bridle. On one side of the saddle bags was his wardrobe had on the other his books, papers, letters and stationery. Among the articles of wearing apparel then necessary were a pair of leggings, overshoes made of buffalo skin with sole leather bottoms and a red plush cap. The circuit at that time had twenty or more preaching places and services were held nearly every night in the week and it required four weeks to complete the round. One day a good sister asked Mr. McElfresh if it was true that he expected to quite the circuit. He replied that he meant to stop long enough to earn money for a new coat of which he was greatly in need whereupon the good sister at once went to work and saw to it that the faithful young preacher had the needed garment so that he could keep on with his work. The narrative goes on to say:

"With Mr. McElfresh, as with many another minister, getting initiated into the work of visiting from house to house was something productive of perplexing experiences. While traveling on the bottom near Butlersville, one afternoon in autumn, he called on a family consisting of a young man and his two maiden sisters. They lived in a small log cabin of only one room with three beds in as many corners. These conditions he concluded were not favorable to spending the night there and after talking awhile he contemplated seeking lodgings elsewhere and made ready to leave. The young people, however, were so persistent in urging him to stay that he finally consented, though much against his convictions. After partaking of a frugal supper they called in the neighbors to get acquainted with the new preacher, and several hours were pleasantly passed in social intercourse.

When the guests departed the minister conducted the family worship and then his bed was pointed out to him, but the perplexing question was how to get into it unobserved. Trusting that matters would right themselves he withdrew from the room and remained some ten minutes gazing at Orion with his belt and sword as he waited for supremacy among the constellations. Thoroughly benumbed with the cold he returned to the house and to his surprise and much to his mortification he found the two female members of the household standing by the fire seemingly intent on but one thing, to watch the movements of the guest. With a courage born of desperation he here, after as brief a time for preparation as possible, sprang into the bed and proceeded to think of the innocence manifested by some of God's creatures here on his footstool, for the young women were strictly above reproach in character.

Mr. McElfresh once went to fill an appointment near Astoria and found presented only one woman with a little girl too small to be counted as a hearer. He took for his text, 'Many are called but few are chosen.' My good sister, we ought to be very thankful for this congregation.
We are better situated than Peter Cartwright who once preached to one man with one eye.

The year following Mr. McElfresh was married. They spent the first year of their wedded life in a copper shop, a room sixteen feet square, which served the purpose of kitchen, dining room, bed room, parlor and study.

Some of the pioneers of those days were Parker McNeil and Robert McLaren, natives of Scotland, who settled in the vicinity of Astoria at an early day. In 1832 Mr. McLaren's mother with three sons and two daughters followed from Indiana journeying in a cart drawn by oxen, acrossing the Illinois river at the present site of Beardstown, then containing one log house occupied by an old bachelor named Beard. They really started the best school they could, having the sessions in private houses three months of the year while the principal text books were the testament and Noah Webster's spelling book. Sunday schools were soon started and all had the good custom of attending and after opening exercises the attendance would be divided into two classes, the older one studying some from the testament and the younger reciting from the spelling book.

The nearest place for grinding was at the old horse mill at the Hobart settlement, fifteen miles away and generally a boy would be sent with the corn in an ox cart and often would be obliged to sit up all night to get his turn at the mill and then he would hitch on his oxen, grind his corn and return home.

Rev. A. M. Daneley put in the first clocks in the churches on the circuit and he also introduced the first organ about the use of which there had been much strife, so he told them to make him the sole scape goat and would bear all the blame.

To the writer at least these early sketches are full of interest and they will be the same doubtless to many others and cause us all to have a better conception of the great obligation we are under to the good people of the pioneer days.

ASKS GOD TO CURSE UNIONS.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 14.—Christianity and unionism were among the topics discussed at the Grace Methodist church Sunday. The Rev. F. F. Far-milloe handled the subject regardless of the feelings of union men within hearing. "I need not say," said he,
"that my heart goes out to the man and woman who are constrained to toil. My sympathies are with them.
Employers of labor toiled once and in many instances their present success is well deserved."

"He is not the true friend of labor who will blind bare eyes to the dangers that beset them. Labor has a right to organize and should be protected. But there are limitations which must be recognized and the limitations of labor are the same as those of capital. When he blasphemes the son of God that man is not fit to lead men, and if he has a following those followers will be led into the ditch."

"When you permit a union to stop a non-union man and let the former determine just what organization that man shall join you are not the children of God, but the children of the devil. Get away from this spirit of covetousness."

"God curse the union which dares to put its hand on free American labor. When such a thing is permitted it often leads to anarchy and ought to be driven far from us. I have met this man Gompers and talked with him personally. For some leaders I have a profound respect, while others never impress me favorably."

"The minute I detect the spirit of avarice I shrink from dealing with such men. When I hear a man tell another not to get on a certain street car because of a non-union motorman my blood boils."

SCANDAL CAUSES FATAL SHOOTING

Fairfield Has Probably Mortally Wounds Foe Who Sought to Wreak Vengeance

Fairfield, Ill., Sept. 15.—As a sequel to the shooting of James Crews by Attorney L. C. Conners two months ago, O. A. Harvey, an implement dealer to day shot and fatally wounded John Baum-berger, a prominent baker of this city.
Harvey and Crews are alleged to have been complainants in certain escapades with the wives of Conners and Baum-berger.

At the time the scandal was made public, after the shooting of Crews by one of the alleged outraged husbands, Harvey, in order to avoid trouble, was seldom seen in public. He told his friends that he did not wish to kill Baumberger and would do so only as a last resort to save his life.

Matters went along smoothly with no meeting between the two men until day when Baumberger became intoxicated, it is said, and started for Harvey's place of business to 'settle the grudge,' as he termed it.

FIRES UPON HIS FOE.

Harvey, seeing that his antagonist had evidently come to do him harm, had his gun handy, and as Baumberger entered, discharged the contents of one barrel into his body.

The men were only fifty feet apart when the shooting took place. The weapon was loaded with BB shot. Twenty-eight of the deadly pellets took effect in Baumberger's right arm, side and abdomen.
He sank to the floor.

It is thought that the injured man cannot live, although the best medical attention has been provided. Harvey was immediately arrested and furnished bond for his appearance in the sum of $2,000.

The prominence of the four persons who have been connected with the two shooting affairs, and the nature of the trouble which set the bad blood brewing between the men, have caused the affair to be the principal subject of conversation in Fairfield for the last ten weeks.

CREWS AND HARVEY FRIENDS.

After the shooting of Crews it was frequently predicted that another tragedy might occur.

James Crews, the victim of the first shooting, in whose body four bullets from the weapon of Lawyer Conners took effect, has nearly completely recovered.
He is one of the leading furniture dealers of Fairfield.

Crews and Harvey were fast friends and constant companions, despite the fact that the former is a single man and the latter is married and has a family of three children. It is alleged that the two were so friendly with the wives of Conners and Baumberger that both husbands vowed to take the lives of the two friends.

Harvey belongs to one of the oldest and most prominent families of this section.
He was born in this city.

DEATHS AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Sept. 15.—James Crawford, a highly respected citizen of this county died after a long illness at his home east of Virginia, aged 70 years. He was one of the oldest settlers and has seen the advance and growth of this part of Illinois.

At 9 o'clock occurred the death of Richard Gordon Martin. Consumption was the cause. He was a graduate of the Virginia high school and had finished a year as teacher and was preparing to teach again this year, but his condition was so bad that he was sent to Pueblo, Colo., but he has been failing rapidly during the last two weeks and he was sent home. He was 20 years old. Funeral will be held at the Presbyterian church Sept. 16, his birthday. He leaves two sisters and a father.

OWES HIS LIFE TO A NEIGH-BOR'S KINDNESS.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians, who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor, learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours.

JACKSONVILLE CIRCUIT.

The pastor is arranging for a supply at Asbury and Salem next Sunday, hence these places will have regular services on conference Sunday.

The third year on the circuit has been a very pleasant one and the pastor extends hearty thanks to all who have in any way contributed to its success. The extremely bad roads and unfavorable weather last winter greatly interfered with the plans for revival services. But we had a very good meeting at Shiloh and the church is enjoying great prosperity as the result.

The finances of the circuit have been more easily raised than last year. Shiloh was the first to report in full for the pastor and presiding elder; but the others are so near up that no doubt every dollar will be paid in the next three days.

All should rejoice that the benevolent collections for the year are the largest in many years. Asbury leads in the amount contributed to the regular benevolences, and also to the "Bible Cause," but Hebron is in the lead, if we include the W. F. M. S. collections. Omitting the W. F. M. S. collections for the permanent superannuate fund; the circuit gave $266.64, divided among the four churches as follows:

Asbury	$90.83
Hebron	74.86
Salem	53.67
Shiloh	47.34
Total	$266.64

To this the pastor adds $19.36, making a total of $286.00, distributed to the following objects:

Missions	$200.00
Church extension	10.00
Freedmen's Aid and S. Ed. So.	10.00
Education	23.00
Sunday school union	2.00
Tract society	1.00
Domestic missions	5.00
Conference claimants	25.00
Episcopal fund	10.00
Total	$286.00

Adding to this the $35.00 given for his permanent superannuate fund and the $102.00 collected for the "Bible Cause," we have a total of $413.00.

The W. F. M. S. at Hebron raised this year $111.00 and at Shiloh, $27, making a total of $138.00. If we add this to the other benevolences raised on the circuit, it gives a grand total of $561.00 for all objects. The pastor goes up to conference carrying the best report from Jacksonville circuit that has been made for years. Whether he is returned for another year, or sent to a new field of labor, he will ever remember the kindness and cooperation of the good people of this charge.

Thursday to serve the coming year—

BANK DEPOSITS ENORMOUS

Statistics show increase of a Hundred Million Dollars in Savings deposits in the last six years

A remarkable growth in the savings deposits in the various banking institutions of Illinois is shown in the recapitulation of the quarterly statement of the state banks, made to the auditor of public accounts. This one item in the statement shows that within the last six years the savings deposits in Illinois have increased 350 per cent.

GREATER THAN EVER BEFORE.

The last quarterly statement of all the state banks of Illinois shows the condition of the ninety-seven institutions of this character in the state. These ninety-seven banks had an aggregate of $123,475,387.00 in savings deposits, as against $19,721,738.72 at the time of the next preceding quarterly statement, made on May 21 last. These figures show not only a decided gain but bring the total several millions of dollars greater than ever before reached.

On the entire population of the state of Illinois, the increase in savings deposits in these three months was 80 cents per capita, of $12 increase in every account kept with a bank of the state. The same statistics show that one person in every sixteen in the state has a savings account. These accounts average $400 for each depositor, or $25.00 per capita.

EARNING CAPACITY OF DEPOSITS.

The value of these accounts in earning capacity may be realized from the fact that approximately $375,000 is paid out in a year by the banks to the depositors, in interest on the accounts.

Six years ago, in February, 1897, a recapitulation of the bank reports made to the state auditor showed the total of savings deposits to be only $28,193,621.64. Thus, the increase in this one item in six years falls little short of a hundred million dollars.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR OPENING DAY

Many Improvements Made—Whipple Building Changed—New Heating Plant Installed—Prospects Exceedingly Bright.

Illinois college will reopen her doors to students Tuesday, Sept. 21, and those who go on the hill this year will be offered exceptional advantages both as regards the variety of courses and also complete equipment in the various chemical and science and other departments.

President Barnes returned Saturday and feels confident of an increased attendance. He has devoted the first few days of the week in pushing toward completion the various material improvements and changes that have been made and when the college opens the students will find a college plant that is in every particular modern and up-to-date and fully equal to the demands required in these days of progress and advancement.

For years the heating apparatus of the institution has been inadequate. Realizing this pressing need and the further fact that each year $500 or more has had to be expended in the department without apparent results, President Barnes determined after last year's experience to install in the basement of the Crampton hall building a central heating plant that would furnish the comfort imperative during the winter months. As a result, the basement in Crampton hall has been lowered in certain places some four feet and the foundation and cellar partition walls lowered proportionately where necessary. I beams have also been put in place where needed and two large tubular boilers with sufficient capacity to heat the entire seven buildings on the hill will soon be put in position. Arrangements have also been made for more boiler room should occasion require and ample coal space provided with a small track with car running to ash bin. This improvement is not completed, but will be ready for use by cold weather.

The inside of all the buildings have received more or less attention and present a neat and attractive appearance as the result of paper and paint.

The greatest changes made have been in the Whipple building, which has been repainted throughout, re-roofed and a porch added on the east entrance, which will be enclosed during the winter. The wood panels of the doors of the College avenue entrance have been taken out and glass put in their place which is a great improvement in the matter of lighting the main hall way.

The small south west room has been fitted up as a girl's waiting room and the room above will be used as the office of the principal. Between this room and the study hall, part of the partition has been removed and a window set in which affords the principal a full view of the hall without leaving his office. The study hall presents a very attractive appearance. The heavy wooden brackets have been painted white, while the side walls are of dark green color with the ceiling in the lightest shade of green. The same color scheme is carried out in the recitation rooms down stairs and the floor space of the lower hall way and all recitation rooms will be covered with heavy dark green linoleum. The building is in every respect in first class condition and is well adapted to the purposes for which it is used.

It has ever been the purpose of President Barnes to have Crampton hall, the students' home, neat and attractive, and with this idea in mind, the rooms and hallways have been repapered and repainted. The walls and ceiling of the dormitory are done in colonial yellow, with the wood work in dark red. The south hall has been reserved exclusively for college students and the north hall will be available for Whipple students.

Few changes have been made in Sturtevant hall, as this building has recently been rearranged and refurnished. The chemical and biological laboratories are located in this building and the equipment here is full and complete. There are also three recitation rooms in the building.

The Y. M. C. A. will use the old library room in Beecher hall.

The Jones building has received its share of attention and the entrance to library and recitation rooms has been redecorated and is done in colonial yellow, with wood work in crimson. Lavatories for the men have been installed in the basement. The Y. M. C. A. room has been converted into a waiting room for the girls and the room east has been made into a ladies lavatory. This room has been attractively furnished and is in easy access of the reading room and library, making it valuable for study purposes.

The office of the dean is to the right of the library entrance and the office of the president is directly above it. The president's secretary has an office over the main hallway.

An athletic room has been provided in the gymnasium, where the old toilet rooms were and here all athletic goods and supplies will be stored. The material equipment on the hill is indeed superb and it is doubtful if the student anywhere will find superior advantages in this line.

The prospects for a large attendance are exceptionally bright and registration day Monday, Sept. 29, will no doubt result in an increased enrollment.

The applications for rooms in both the Crampton hall and the Academy building are increasing daily and only four rooms remain in the Academy building and these are tentatively spoken for. The boarding pupils at the Academy will number between forty and fifty from present indications, an increase over last year.

ART DEPARTMENT.

Miss Laura Ripley, of Brooklyn, has been engaged as teacher of art, but this department will not be open until Jan. 5, as Miss Ripley is unable to leave New York before that time.

Previous to coming to Illinois college Miss Ripley has been connected with Pratt institute of Brooklyn and will offer to her students the Arthur W. Dow course, consisting of academic art, composition and design, applied art, color and design, course in drawing and design, basketry and weaving.

Indications point to a most successful year along every line on the hill and it is certainly hoped that the anticipations of President Barnes and faculty may be realized.

JUSTICE COURTS.

In Squire Henderson's court Joseph Fitzpatrick was taxed $3 and costs for an ordinary drunk.

Charles S. Nichols and Floyd E. Boston, of St. Louis, are spending a few days in the city while on their way to Lexington, Va., where they will enter the Washington-Lee university.

HOME MARKETS.

Wet weather has had a somewhat depressing effect, though it is no doubt over for the present. The general tendency is to firm prices with an upward look. Of the Chicago livestock markets, Oliver S. Green, with Shannon Bros. & Co., Union Stock Yards, for Monday, Sept. 14, reports the estimated run of cattle early was 35,000; second report, 38,000; but they kept coming until late when it was thought the run would be over 40,000. Previous heaviest run was 36,727. Choice cattle sold nearly steady and others 10 to 15c lower, showing a great demand and making the future months look good, for corn fed cattle to sell higher; $6.10 was paid for 17 averaging 1,532 lbs., with numerous sales at $5.75 to $5.85, and some $5.95 to $6.00; 7,000 western cattle, with prices 10c lower. Choice cows and heifers, steady; others 10c lower. Stockers and feeders, 10c lower.

Hogs—Twenty-nine thousand hogs were on the market, which opened 5c higher; got strong and sold 10c higher. Choice light and butcher stuff sold at $6.10 to $6.20; top, $6.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 40,000; market active at strong prices.

FENCE LAW.
A gentleman had occasion recently to look up the law regarding fences and says that our laws go back first to the English statutes on the subject and the prime essence of the question is the fact that the law contemplates requiring all men who have live stock to take care of it so that it shall not injure any one else. For instance: if a man does not care to raise any live stock he is not required to erect any fence against his neighbor's stock, the latter being obliged by law to see to it that his property injures no one. Of course, where men agree to a division fence, each is liable then for the condition of his part, not otherwise. When stock breaks through a reasonably good fence the man damaged may hold it until the owner settles. It is seldom that any farmer cares to get along without stock, so that the law mentioned above would affect few if any persons in this section, but it will be news to many that such is the law.

READ THIS.
Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Providentially I was led to procure a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Specific for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as A TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the $1 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. L. B. Kent, Evangelist.

Supreme Deputy of the Maccabees of the World.

that I must do something to regain my health. A friend advocated your Wine of Cardui treatment so strongly that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines. I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days blessed relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed fine health ever since. I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my hearty endorsement."

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you.

Do not delay in securing this medicine. There is nothing to gain and everything to lose by delay. The choice is before you. Will or will you not secure relief now by taking Wine of Cardui? All druggists sell 25c bottles of Wine of Cardui as well as 25c packages of Theodor's Black-Draught.

One of the most important requirements in a medicine to be given to small children should be that it is pleasant to take. Bad tasting medicines disturb the stomach, destroy the appetite and it is extremely difficult to get children to take them. The pleasant flavor of Re-Go Tonic Laxative Syrup, the certain cure for dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, pleases the most sensitive persons and is the ideal laxative for young children. 25c, 50c and $1 bottles sold by Lee P. THE FOUND CHORD.

Seated one night at the organ, this humming the keys.
I heard a buzzing, approaching, striding of the soft night breeze.
A hum that I realized at once was that of the skittering brigade.
And the door, I knew, was wide open, as usual, whenever I played.
Dreaming a dream that was foolish, I thought, "I am surely peepo."
Against the assault of these insects while sitting beneath my roof.
But in they poured—thousands and thousands—and rushed me before I could run.
In a moment they had me cornered and started in for their fun!
And then, like a great inspiration, there came to my mind the bold claim
Of the man who said music was fatal to insects. (I have it.)
So firmly I stuck to playing and put the loud pedal down hard.
While I ripped out a tune that would kill 'em if they were within half a yard!
'Twas a mix up of popular pieces—"Hawthorne" pervading the whole.
And ere the first one had been rendered the dead insects started to roll.
Down my face and my collar and shirt front till they choked up the ivory keys.
And my neighbors sent over a message. "Oh, what is the cause of this, please?"
But I played till the last mad mosquito had passed in his checks. Then I stopped.
And, filled with emotions distracting, my tired head in my hands dropped;
The chords that I'd mangled had saved me; but, the thought now gives me pain—
I fear that the next time they jump me I can't play the same thing again!

"THE STAIN OF GUILT"

At the Grand last night a fair-sized audience gathered to see "Rube" Waddell and the company present "The Stain of Guilt," given under the personal direction of John H. Havlin and William Garen. The play abounds in many laughable situations and the audience seemed well pleased with the comedy work in the play. John Rucker, as a colored laborer and porter, came in for his share of applause, and as a comedian his work was very acceptable.

"Rube" Waddell was just simply "Rube" Waddell in the cast and he appeared at opportune times to assist in timely rescues from the hands of the villain. He appeared quite at home in his role as an actor and showed that he was just as able to take care of himself behind the footlights as on the ball field. The cast had in it many capable people who gave a very creditable performance. The new management should begin at once to control the gallery gods, as their behavior is embarrassing to those on the stage and decidedly unpleasant for the audience.

Elegant refreshments were served.

CONDITION OF CROPS

Last week was peculiar so far as weather was concerned in Illinois and the reports of crop conditions have a varied tale to write. The drought in the south end of the state continues, but the rainfall in the north and central portions has been bountiful. The temperature was above the normal, but the daily range was great. The crop and climate bulletin of the weather bureau for the week ending Sept. 14 was issued to day and says:

The drought in the extreme southern counties was practically unbroken during the week. The distribution of rainfall varied from light, scattered showers in the southern district, to copious rains in the extreme northern portion of the state. The mean temperature was slightly above the normal, but the daily range was great, and the minimum temperatures were rather low. Plowing was suspended in portions of the northern district on account of excessive moisture, and in the extreme southern portion the soil was too dry and hard. Elsewhere throughout the state the work proceeded under most favorable conditions, and is nearing completion in many localities. Seeding has begun in all sections. An increased acreage of timothy will be sown in the southern counties.

A general and decided improvement in the condition of corn is reported. While its advancement was somewhat slow in a few localities of the northern district, owing to cool nights and heavy rainfall, and it suffered from lack of moisture in the extreme southern portion, it is believed by a great majority of correspondents that an excellent crop is in prospect in all but the extreme southern portion of the state, if killing frost does not occur before Oct. 1. Some fields have reached maturity in the southern portion, and cutting has begun in a few places.

Considerable damage to cut clover and to grain remaining in shock resulted from the heavy rains in the northern portion.

Pastures are in excellent condition except in a few southern counties; they were revived by showers in the northern half of the southern district. The yield of broomcorn and cowpeas is generally disappointing. Potatoes range from poor to fair, and there is some complaint of rotting in the northern district. Stock is reported to be in excellent condition. In the extreme southern tier of counties the supply of water in wells and stock ponds is getting very low.

Vineyards are yielding well, and the quality of the grapes is excellent. Apples continue to drop badly, and the outlook is for a very poor crop.

MISSION FIELDS

Rev. D. C. McCoy for 21 Years Among the Chinese Here in Interest of Bible Society.

Rev. D. C. McCoy, of Chicago, for twenty-one years a missionary in China, addressed congregations Sunday at the Congregational and State Street Presbyterian churches. He is a fluent speaker and has an interesting manner of presenting his subject and holding the attention of his hearers. He will remain in the city several weeks and will make addresses at two churches each Sunday during his visit.

He is at present engaged in the American Bible society's work and is emphasizing the work in foreign fields. His entire missionary life was spent in the capital of China, the city of Peking, and he is therefore qualified to speak authoritatively of the Chinese government and its functionaries. He returned to this country in 1890. He knew Li Hung Chang well and saw him when he was at the height of his power.

Mr. McCoy wears the bronze button, the insignia of the G. A. R., and served during the rebellion as a member of Co. B, 137th Ill., enlisting from Adams county.

Miss Bessie McCoy, a daughter of Mr. McCoy, is now in China as a missionary and was in the capital during the siege. Her family here were without communication from her for over two months and her anxiety can better be imagined than described. Miss McCoy was born in China and remained there until 13 years of age, when she came to this country for her education, remaining ten years, returning at the end of that time to the missionary fields in the empire.

FUNERALS.

JUDY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Judy, of Tallula, was conducted from the Christian church in that city Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. R. F. Thrapp, of this city, who, as a young man, was a member of Mrs. Judy's Sunday school class. He spoke with tender feeling of the devotion and deep Christian earnestness of the deceased. Rev. Charles E. Smoot, of Petersburg, assisted in the services.

The church was filled with relatives and friends and many were present from Springfield, Petersburg and surrounding points.

Mrs. Margaret McAnan and A. M. Upham of this city, were present.

THE LECTURE COURSE.

The college boys are pushing their lecture course tickets with a good prospect of success, which is decidedly gratifying. The list of attractions is fine, including such as Suzanne Adams Co., Ritchie Co., Ernest Gamble Recital Co., Dr. Bristol, The Seigel-Meyer-Caveny Co. and the Mendelssohn Quartet. This is a combination cheap at twice or four times the price of a season ticket and the young men in charge of the enterprise deserve credit for the quality of the entertainments they are to bring to the city. The people of Jacksonville are discriminating and will certainly be glad to show their appreciation of such affairs by liberal patronage. Canvassers were out yesterday and met with much encouragement and they will continue their labors until they have finished the city, and certainly they deserve a liberal reward for their earnest work while the cause for which they are striving is well worthy the support of all citizens.

DREXEL OPEN.

The Drexel bowling alleys were opened Tuesday evening after having been put in first class condition. The walls of the room have been repainted and the running way rearranged. Mr. Franks reports a good business all day Tuesday. Carl Schaffer will have charge of the alleys.
